

Dream kitchens continued...

A bold new look for kitchens, concrete works well with metallic accents, especially shiny copper, so why not combine it with a metal worktop, cupboard doors (see p170) or new pans – the copper range at John Lewis is good value for money, from £50 for a milk pan (johnlewis.com). Meanwhile, with its glorious patina and natty built-in herb planter, this is the coolest new concrete design we've come across.

'Concrete' ultra-thin kitchen by Beton, from £80,000, Steininger Designers (steininger-designers.at)

